SINGAPORE NUGGETS

you KNOW
that...

When it was developed in 1823-24, Sir Stamford Raffles intended Commercial Square to be a business district. As Singapore grew, buildings sprang up around the square. In 1858, it was renamed Raffles Place. Two department stores, Robinsons and John Little, saw their beginnings there in the latter part of the 19th century. Both companies survive till today, and can be found on Orchard Road.
